Suspect Jumped on Train While Running from CMPD

In a crime alert this afternoon, Charlotte Mecklenburg Police say they arrested a man after he jumped on a train to run from them.

They say he stole a truck with a GPS system and police tracked it to a gas station three miles from where it was stolen.

They arrested the passenger sitting in the truck.

They say the driver tried to ride the rails to get away, but police cuffed him when he jumped off the train.
